

Has your Board recognised the need for a Strategic Plan, but are unsure how to work through the process?

Are you a freelance facilitator who is looking for new ideas or frameworks to support groups with their Strategic Planning?

Join us for 'Facilitating Strategic Planning'

A 1-day workshop for anyone who facilitates (or wants to facilitate) Strategic Planning workshops.

In this workshop you will:

Get clear about what Strategic Planning is and why it is important.

Strategic Planning means different things to different people. We'll unpack the purpose of Strategic Planning and explore a range of frameworks you might use to develop a useable and effective Strategic Plan. There's more than one way to map direction.

Explore behind-the-scenes considerations and get clear about what can happen in-the-room. There is more to Strategic Planning than a couple of workshops with lots of post-it notes. What pre-thinking might need to be done, so that any workshop time is used well? What decisions need to be made before a Strategic Planning workshop even begins?

Discover simple activities that ensure all voices are heard.

When you have a group of passionate people with diverse opinions, it's easy for the whole process to be high-jacked by the loudest voice. Discover some simple activities that ensure all voices are heard and robust discussions can happen in a positive way.

Learn how to support groups to find agreement and make decisions.

There's more to decision making than sticky dots! Explore a range of decision-making frameworks that make it easy for groups to find alignment and make complex decisions in the planning process.

This workshop is full-on and fast-paced. You'll leave with a good understanding of what Strategic Planning is and have a bunch of new tools and processes you can use to do it well.

ABOUT YOUR FACILITATOR

Kerri Price

Kerri is an experienced facilitator and story-teller who is skilled at delivering practical content in an engaging way. She has twice been recognised as an 'Exceptional Adult Educator' in the Adult Learning Week Awards and is regularly described as 'the best Facilitator I've ever worked with.'

Kerri regularly works across private, public and community sectors and has experience facilitating a wide range of workshops from community engagement to business development, strategic planning to idea jams, and everything in between. Her toolkit has been developed over 20 years of facilitation practice and she is passionate about supporting other facilitators to connect, learn and grow together.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

"Kerri, you have a gift as a facilitator. You bring clarity, you challenged us when we needed to deepen our thinking, and you kept the conversation flowing. We arrived at a great destination by the end of the day. I'm so grateful we brought you in to help us with this piece of work."

Vanessa Davey, Chair, Momenta Charitable Trust

"Your facilitation is amazing. Thank you for sharing your knowledge and wisdom, I have learned alot. I leave far more confident in myself."

Naomi Gardiner, Pacific Island Community Trust

"Kerri facilitated a workshop as part of the proposed restructure and realignment of our team. With her unique skill-sets in facilitation and change management, she was the perfect person for the role. We are really thrilled with where we've got to... "

Anne Blakeway, Community Partnership Manager, Tauranga City Council
